

TERMS & CONDITIONS OF ADMISSION TO FREEDOM COMMUNITY THERAPEUTIC COMMUNITY

- Freedom Community offers you accommodation and a supportive therapeutic programme for drug and alcohol misuse.
- You must be prepared to commit to and fully participate in a minimum 9-month programme, (minimum 6-12 months residential). The length of the programme, and its key elements, are non-negotiable.
- The programme is based on the Theory, Model and Method described by De Leon (2000). A key element of this treatment method is the challenge of negative thinking and behavioural patterns, which are directly and indirectly related to drug and alcohol misuse. It also utilises the concept of inner child and stuck points in our childhood. We also embrace the twelve-step mutual aid recovery. Using was our solution, but to what?
- The first 6-12 months of the programme is residential in North Devon and involves rigorous but thoughtful group-work. It has often been described as a journey of self-discovery. The programme is tough due to the nature truth telling and deep self-examination aided by the various interventions. It will be a different experience for each resident yet within the same structured programme.
- The final months of the programme is in one of our (Next Step) move-on houses in Barnstaple where you be required to continue to practice your recovery program. The length of this stage is dependent on how well it is observed that you are adjusting to a life of recovery. If you stay at the house after this period, you will be expected to facilitate key elements of the programme to more junior peers, and can volunteer in some sort of work at Croscombe Barton for a varying lengths each month from 5-1 day1/week. Transport to and from Barnstaple will be provided. You will also be required to attend at least five mutual aid meetings a week.
- At the end of the 9 months or so programme you will graduate with the option of applying to become a full-time volunteer at Croscombe Barton.
